To consider a new bowls green mower to cover when main one is being repaired

The groundsman has a top notch expensive bowls green mower, and then a less expensive one used just for cover. The current cover mower is now 35 years old, and the main one is still being repaired. For the start of the season which will be very soon, a new less expensive cover mower is needed, and this is another item which could be bought using the unpredicted surplus. The model suggested is shown below.
